LUISA OMIELAN

Luisa Omielan is one of the most exciting voices to come out of London. Her debut stand up show, What Would Beyoncé Do?! is the most successful debut show to come out of the Edinburgh Fringe, a phenomenal word of mouth smash hit. Luisa recently brought it back for one night only in a sold out show and after party at the O2 Forum Kentish Town.

There is nobody on the stand-up circuit like Luisa Omielan. And there are no stand-up comedy audiences like a Luisa Omielan audience. Her breakthrough show What Would Beyoncé Do?! had fans dancing in the aisles as Omielan clambered through the stalls. Her 2014 follow-up Am I Right Ladies?! was met with equal critical acclaim and party filled audiences, with a joke from the show about the infamous thigh gap going viral, notching 40 million views to date... Thigh Gap, What Thigh Gap?!

Discussing everything from sex to mental health, from careers to body image, Luisa brings serious topics to the surface and makes them funny and accessible to all. Her performances are inspirational, motivational and from the heart.
